

UpgradeYourConsole (UYC) does not promote or condone piracy. The purpose of a modchip is to enable playback of backups made from software titles that you legally own, playback of import games, and homebrew software. UYC is neither responsible nor liable for any personal choices made by you, the customer, regarding copyright law. It is your responsibility to ensure that you do not violate the copyright laws in your area.

As such, please do not contact UYC regarding questions about piracy, including (but not limited to) how to pirate games, where to download games, Warez, etc. All such requests and questions will be ignored.

All services are performed At Your Own Risk! Modchip installation WILL void your warranty. UYC takes no responsibility for loss of warranty, nor do we cover the warranty of the console. The customer is responsible for any and all uses of the console. Please note that you are also responsible if use of illegally pirated games causes the console to become banned from use of online services.
